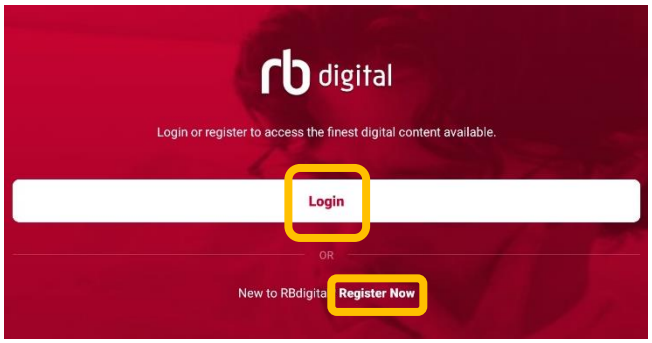
RBDigital App

RBDigital provides two of North Canton Public Library's streaming video services—Acorn TV and The Great Courses. Both of these services require their own accounts in addition to an RBDigital account. To avoid getting funneled into the pay service for Acorn TV and The Great Courses, you must log into your RBDigital account every seven days for a new pass, after which you can watch unlimited videos for one week. Log into your RBDigital account on the Library's website when accessing either Acorn TV or The Great Courses at: http://ncantonlibrary.com/digital-video. Alternatively, use the RBDigital app, which can be downloaded for free from most app stores, including the Apple App Store and Google Play.

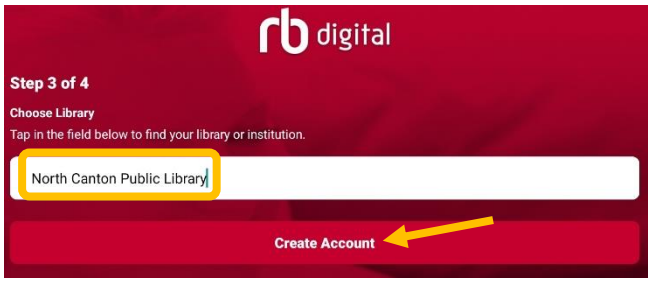
On the home screen, choose Register Now to set up an RBDigital account if you do not have one. (If you do, select Login instead and enter the email address you used to register.)



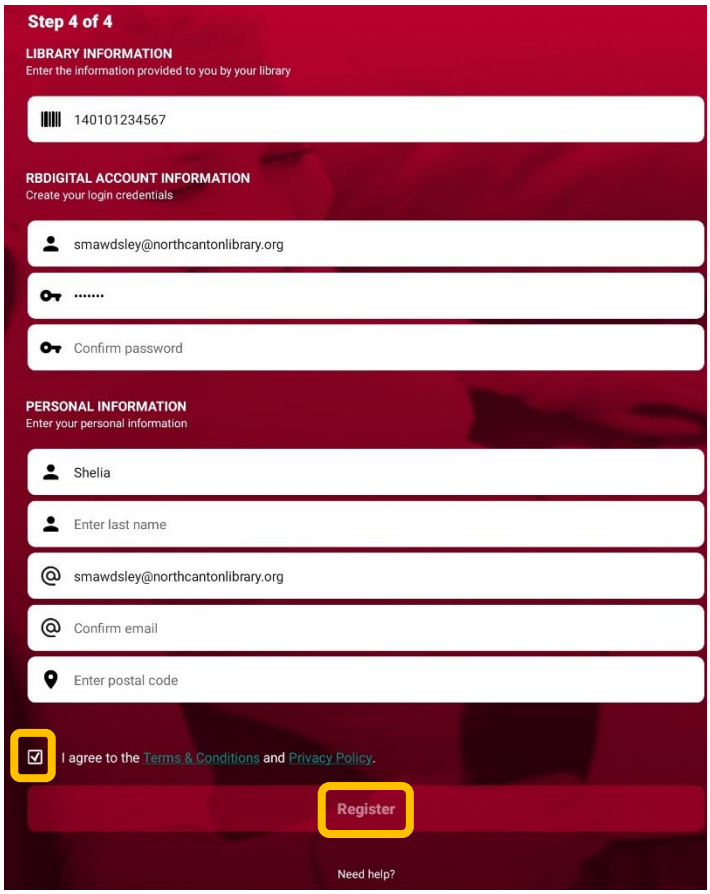
When registering, follow the onscreen prompts by selecting the appropriate option from the dropdown menu and then tapping the option below through the first three steps of set up.

Country→USA

State→Ohio



Library→North Canton Public Library



On the fourth screen, fill in the entire form with your library card number, username and password you create, first and last name, email that you confirm, and postal code. Tap the I agree box and tap Register to finish.
The available services appear in the RBDigital app. You can browse the offerings in the RBDigital app, but Acorn TV content will need to be watched either via a web browser or the Acorn TV app. The Great Courses must be viewed in a web browser, as that app is not compatible with Library accounts.
