OUR COMMITMENT TO ACCESSIBILITY AND INCLUSION

“How often is it used?”

It's a question I receive all the time, usually when I'm at a conference or event that gives me the opportunity to talk about the equipment that the North Canton Public Library has added to our facility to make it more accessible to more members of our Stark County community.

At one convention, I was helping other librarians understand the importance of having a universal changing table available in their buildings. At another event, I was talking about our designated wheelchair charging station. And at a Library program, I was explaining the sensory kits we offer as part of our partnership with KultureCity, a nonprofit organization that certifies venues which have sensory inclusive modifications.

Time and time again, I heard the same question.

“How often is it used?”

“How many people have benefited from this?”

It's a valid question, of course. Before any business or organization decides to purchase a piece of equipment or dedicate funds to their enrollment in a specialized program, it's expected for them to measure the success of the product in quantifiable measures. By doing so, it's easier to justify the purchase later on – because no one wants to spend hundreds or thousands of dollars on something that only gets used once a year, do they?

Many would say no.

But maybe they should reconsider.

To be perfectly honest, I'm not sure if our Library's universal changing table, wheelchair charging station, or sensory kits have been used at all in the past year. They could sit dormant for months at a time, and I would never consider our purchase of these items to be a failure.

Why?

Because for the one person who used these tools, it made a tremendous difference in their ability to stay and enjoy our building and resources.

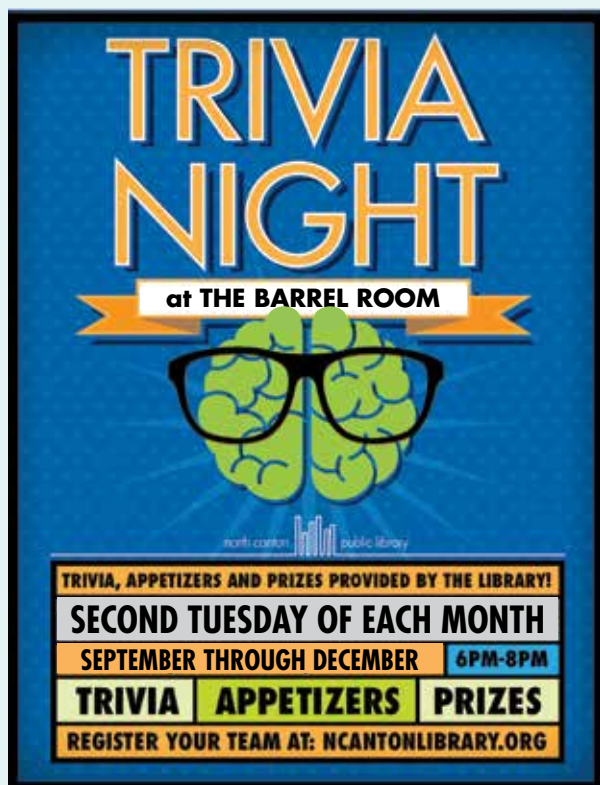

Because for the caregiver who didn't have to struggle to take care of their loved one as they used these tools, it gave them a happy memory inside our building instead of the exhaustion of a stressful outing.

And because of all the typical individuals who don't need a wheelchair to move, who don't need access to a universal changing table to use the restroom, who don't feel the crushing weight of sensory overload in a public space... they see these pieces of equipment each time they use our building. And by seeing these items on a regular basis, they are reminded of the fact that they are privileged enough to share this world with a unique and valued group of human beings who navigate their lives differently than they do – and that's a beautiful thing.

Throughout our newsletter and within our Library's 2023-2026 Strategic Plan, you will see references to inclusion and accessibility, and that's because we're committed to making our building and our Library a safe, welcoming, and kind place for all who enter our doors. In this issue, you'll also see American Sign Language classes, Sensory Story Times, and Caregiver Support Group opportunities offered so that members of our community are given the chance to learn and lead with compassionate knowledge, too. Our goal is to not only be a place of inclusion, but to inspire our community to embrace the concept as well.

Because if our efforts help one person, one family, one caregiver – one is enough.

YOUR LIBRARY CARD

a passport to explore the world

Your library card gives you access to a world of information at NCPL. Use it at the library during open hours. Use it on our website or app after hours. Our world is always available in one form or another.

GET A CARD

1. Complete our brief application online.
2. Bring a Driver's License or State I.D. with your current address to the Patron Services Desk at the library. If you don't have your current address on your I.D., you will need to bring a form with your name and new address on it, such as a utility bill, insurance notification or lease agreement.
3. Your card will be ready in minutes and you may check items out the same day.

TEACHERS

Teacher library cards allow up to 100 children's books to be checked out at any time for six weeks with one two-week renewal available. Teacher privileges apply only to children's books for classroom use. Other library materials including audiobooks, music CDs, kits, electronic devices, and DVDs must be checked out using a general patron library card. As with all library cards, overdue items will be charged a late fee and full price will be charged for lost or damaged items. We strive to assist North Canton Public Schools' educators and homeschoolers. Visit the Children's Department for information on the many special services we offer.

GOLDEN BUCKEYE CARD HOLDERS

Patrons of any age who have a Golden Buckeye Card qualify for fine free status. Simply show us your card one time, and we will change the status of your account to be fine free. Golden Buckeye Card holders continue to receive notices about late items and will still be charged replacement costs if materials are lost or damaged.

CHILDREN 17 AND UNDER

Children are eligible for their own library cards. Parents must be present with children visiting the Library and must agree to comply with library rules and regulations, pay all fines and fees, and make good any loss or damage incurred to materials borrowed on their child's card.

The Library's 24/7 pickup lockers are located on the covered portico at the back of the library. For more information, call us at 330.499.4712.

NOTARY SERVICES

The North Canton Public Library is pleased to offer free basic Notary services for the benefit of the residents of our community. Notary services are available by appointment only. Please call 330.499.4712 x310 to make an appointment.
