INTO OUR PERMANENT COLLECTION

DIANE BELFIGLIO
(1956-2023)
Artist-Teacher-Friend

TITLE: Transfixed by Tulips I
MEDIA: Oil Pastel on Paper
YEAR: 2010

ABOUT THE ARTIST: Diane Belfiglio was an incredible artist who, like the title in this work, transfixed many of us in wonder by her talent. She was a presence in the art community as a teacher, patron, and supporter of all involved: students, other artists, galleries, and the community. Her presence and generosity have been greatly missed, but will not be forgotten. The Little Art Gallery holds two oil pastel drawings created by Belfiglio, Transfixed by Tulips I, purchased in 2023, and Digression Into Detail IV, purchased in 2021.

Belfiglio works are included in the permanent collections of six museums, including the Butler Institute of Art in Youngstown, Ohio, the Itchiku Kubota Art Museum in Tokyo, Japan, and the Canton Museum of Art. In addition, her works are in 16 corporate, hospital, and university art collections, as well as numerous private collections, including that of singer Patti LaBelle. Her painting, Trumpeter of Justice, was selected for the permanent collection of the Stark County Courthouse. Her work was displayed at the Ohio Governor's Office for 11 years through a juried program sponsored by the Ohio Arts Council. In 2018, she was the Featured Spotlight Artist at the Governor's Residence, selected by the Office of the First Lady of Ohio. In 2023, she was the recipient of the Award of Excellence from the Ohio Arts Council.

Belfiglio's full CV, review articles, and portfolio of her community art and other professional work available for sale can be viewed on her website www.belfiglio.com.

PAT MATHER WALTZ

TITLE: Blue Heron
MEDIA: Fabric Sculpture with Surface Embroidery (3' tall)
YEAR: 2010

ABOUT THE ARTWORK: Waltz won the Bobby Pilling Memorial Award in 2010, presented to an Embroiderers' Guild of America member for an original needlework that goes "outside the lines." Blue Heron was featured in the Embroiderers' Guild of America "Needle Arts" Magazine in September 2012. The four-page spread showcases the artist and artwork, with the step-by-step process of creating the Blue Heron.

ABOUT THE ARTIST: Pat Mather Waltz lives on a small farm in East Canton. She and her husband have one daughter, son-in-law, three grandchildren, two dogs, and two horses. Most of Waltz's art is inspired by nature, especially animals; often endangered or extinct ones. She enjoys drawing, sculpting, and embroidering horses and dogs. Pat graduated from Glenwood High School in 1963, Malone (College) University in 1983, with a double major in Visual Art and English, and has a graduate study at Walsh University and Ashland University. She has worked as a floral designer, mapping draftsman, graphic designer, sign painter and substitute teacher. Waltz is a member of Friends of the Little Art Gallery, the Canton Artists League, and for fourteen years was a member of the Canton Chapter of Embroiderers Guild of America.

Waltz held an exhibit in the Little Art Gallery in 2023 with another local artist, Marjorie Lutes, titled "Calculated Curiosities". She is also currently teaching beginning clay sculpting classes at the North Canton Public Library.
